'Candidate Flood' inspires CV Master Careers to create the 'Pay as you go CV' scheme

In response to the current 'Candidate Flood' that many recruiters are experiencing, CV Master Careers have devised the 'Pay as you go CV' with prices starting from just £7.50. This service has been created to help everyone to get the benefits of a professional CV, regardless of their budget. This is a brand new concept to the CV writing industry and has been developed in direct response to the 'credit crunch'.

The 'Pay as you go CV' concept means that clients can choose from a menu of individual options such as CV Design & Formatting, CV Layout, CV Editing, CV Editing (with a Senior Consultant), CV Targeting, CV Consultation and CV Proofreading. Each service is competitively priced and is ideal for anyone who has recently been made redundant, the long-term unemployed, students and young people. It also benefits anyone that is holding back on applying for jobs as their CV needs professional help but currently is unable to afford a full CV writing service. The 'Pay as you go CV' service is also fantastic for those who already have a good CV, but need assistance to stand out from the flood of other job applicants.

CV Master Careers has provided the most comprehensive range of CV and supporting services in the UK and helping their clients to achieve career success, since 2004. Managing Director Rachel Michna was keen to explain that "Our new 'Pay as you go CV' service is an example of our commitment to helping our clients at such a challenging time. By providing our clients with short bursts of concentrated effort, we can help them to really improve their CV and get to the next stage in their career rapidly".

CV Master Careers provides a free personal CV review service, during which the experienced REC qualified consultant can pinpoint exactly what assistance the client needs. Together they agree an effective action plan; that is within the client's budget; then the client can take the next step forward. Although the work is paid for in stages, the CV will be immediately become more effective and the client will be able to use the document straight away to apply for jobs. CV Master Careers also has a popular full CV writing service starting from just £57, for anyone without a CV.

The 'Pay as you go' concept has also been extended to some of their other services and clients can now book very short sessions of interview coaching or mock interviews. This service is great to run through some difficult interview questions or for a short boost before an interview. They also offer complete Redundancy Outplacement and Career Consultancy programmes which can be booked in full, or clients and companies can decide which elements would be of most use to them. They include individual coaching as well as CV and interview preparation and a comprehensive follow up service.

All of these measures are in recognition of the challenging times facing the workforce. With unemployment predicted to be anywhere between 2-3 million by 2009, CV Master Careers aims to be able to help all individuals, whatever stage they are in their career. The new 'Pay as you go' scheme is designed to give flexibility and outstanding value for money. CV Editing can be booked in small blocks of time, costing from just £7.50 for half an hour. 'Pay as you go' Interview Coaching starts from only £10 for 15 minutes.

They also provide other new services such as CV Tutorials and tailored CV Template Packs, as well as traditional supporting services such as Covering Letters. Customers can place an order for any service by telephone on 0845 0039557 or on the secure payment page at www.cvmaster.co.uk. Some services can be completed the same day.
